TALK WITH WELLMAN

Some of the Experiences of the Great Arctic Explorer.

HOPE NOT YET ABANDONED.

He Expects to Make Another Effort to Reach the Pole in 1895.—The Scientific Men of the Party Made Many Observations in Geology and Natural History.—A Struggle With the Ice.

TROMSØ, Norway, Aug. 17.—(Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press.)—Walter Wellman, with the crew of the crushed steamer Ragnvald Jarl, arrived here Wednesday by the fishing yacht Berntine, Captain Johnsen, from North Spitzbergen. All the members of the party are well. Discussing the failure of his expedition to reach the pole, Mr. Wellman said to a representative of the Associated Press: "After the loss of the Ragnvald Jarl and the consequent breaking up of my line of retreat I was compelled to modify my plans for the summer's work and make sure of being able to return to the coast of Spitzbergen earlier than intended, though the expedition reached within a few miles of the 81st parallel on May 12, 11 days from Tromsøe.

"The season had then changed to the other extreme. North of the Seven islands, situated at the extreme north of Spitzbergen as far as we could see, were masses of heavy, unbroken ice, which appeared absolutely impassable.

"The expedition then turned its face east, along the northeast land, and though the northeast gales quickly broke up the ice which had promised to afford smooth and easy traveling, the whole northeast land was explored.

"The scientific men of the party made many observations in geology and natural history. Professor Owen B. French of the coast and geodetic survey, Washington, accurately surveyed a large part of the coast.

"Among the points added to the map by virtue of the discoveries made during this survey are Cape Gresham, Whitney, Armour and Scott and Walsh island. Only July 1, with the seven men and an aluminum boat I started to force my way over the pack ice. But I was compelled, after several days of frightful struggle with the ice, to give up the attempt.

"On July 4 I started to return to Walden island, crossing Dove bay. We were all compelled for hours to wade through water waist high. The screwing of the pack ice threatened to destroy the boats and sledges, but though they were subjected to the hardest usage, the aluminum boats came through unimpaired. Had it not been for the protection afforded the stores by the watertight cases, progress would have been impossible in pack ice where men and sledges were half the time in the water and half the time on the ice.

"Crossing Dove bay, Altmæ, the meteorologist of the party, broke a bone of his right leg and had to be carried in the boats to Walden island, which was reached on July 22. We waited a fortnight in vain for open water, and on Aug. 4 decided to push through the ice.

"The attempt, which was a most dangerous one, was wholly successful, and our four boats reached Low island on Aug. 6, where we sighted the Bern-tine. Eventually we hired her to convey our party to Tromsøe. We sailed from Low island on Aug. 7, and reached Dunes island on Aug. 8. There we took off Professor Oyen, the geologist, and Hyerdahl, the skinner and sportsman from the University of Christiania and the stores which they were guarding for us.

"Though we were unable to get as far north as we hoped in 1894 on account of the loss of our steamer, etc., and the bad nature of the season, I am determined to try the Spitzbergen route again in 1895."

NOT SETTLED.

Youngstown Streetcar Strike Still on and Liable to Remain So.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 17.—The street railway strike, if possible, is farther from settlement than ever. The men have placed their interests in the hands of the Mahoning Valley Trades union, just organized, which refuses to allow the circuit judges to pass upon the trouble while the company signifies its willingness for them to take up the matter.

His plan to adjust their differences was adopted at a largely attended meeting of the merchants of the city who pledged themselves to protect and support the side which agreed to their scheme. The trades union offers to call in the state board of arbitration. The company will accept no outside opinions, excepting from the circuit judge.

Looking For Swindlers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—A royal German warrant arrived here yesterday for the arrest of a gang of expert swindlers who have been working European cities and who are thought to be hiding in Chicago. The warrant calls for the arrest of seven well dressed and highly educated men, mostly Americans, whose names are given as follows: George Gray, Henry S. Fenton, Henry Morris, Stanley Brown, William Thomas, Harst (given name unknown) and Thomas Butler. The men are said to have traveled in magnificent style and reaped a rich harvest by means of bogus letters of credit.

Siam's King Dead.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 17.—Dispatches per steamer Tacoma, announce the death of the King of Siam. Her majesty ship, Rattler, has been dispatched to Siamese waters to anticipate possible trouble over the succession.

GOVERNOR WAITE'S PLATFORM.

An Open Letter Written to the Populist Party of Colorado.

DENVER, Aug. 17.—Governor Waite has written an open letter to the Populist party of Colorado, in which he strongly opposes fusion with the Democrats. In conclusion he says: "I have endeavored, to the best of my ability, to run the affairs of the state in the interest of the miners and laboring men, and so far as I could, have stepped upon the aristocratic thieves and robbers who have stolen the state poor in previous administrations and even defrauded the school children of the state of nearly $500,000. If we can not, after two years, and after carrying the state, succeeded again on our own platform and with our own men, and without looking for support outside the party organization, then People's party is premature and the American people are not yet ready for reform."

Pittsburgers Claim Indianapolis.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 17.—A number of Pittsburgers of good social and business standing are about to lay claim to a large section of Indianapolis. Their claim is that 120 acres of land, on which now stands Indiana's capital building, the post office, courthouse, large business blocks and several fashionable club-houses, was pre-empted in 1830 by Richard Bishop, but was allowed to slip from him through neglect. The land alone is said to be worth $2,000,000, and Bishop's heirs think they can convince the present occupants that it will be wise to compromise, rather than go to law.

Killed by a Train.

DELAWARE, O., Aug. 17.—The little 10-year-old son of W. H. Huits, while standing on the Big Four tracks at West Berlin, five miles south of this city, in company with his brother, watching the Columbus, Sandusky Short Line passenger going south, which runs parallel to the Big Four to Columbus, was struck by the northbound express on the Big Four and instantly killed. It is claimed by the passengers that the little brother was not warned by any whistle or signal.

To Get Rid of Office-seekers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Representative Bailey of Texas desires to rid congress of all complicity in office-seeking. Yesterday he introduced the following bill. "That from and after the passage of this act no senator or representative in congress shall directly or indirectly solicit or recommend the appointment of any person to any office under the United States. Provided that this act shall not be construed to apply to the offices of the house or the senate."

Who Was He?

CUMBERLAND, Md., Aug. 17.—Thursday an unknown white man was found lying unconscious on the Baltimore and Ohio track near the Three-Mile water station, west of this city. He was brought to the city, where he died at 8:50 a. m. There was nothing upon his person by which he could be identified. He was about 25 years old and well dressed. His body was terribly mangled.

Mills Burned.

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 17.—The planing and sawmills of Hammond, Crosley & Company, near Marienville, Forest county, were destroyed by fire last night, together with over 300,000 feet of lumber. It is supposed that sparks from a small rubbish fire ignited the mill. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Was a Friend of Lincoln's.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Burton C. Cook is dying at his home in Evanston from a disease of the brain. Mr. Cook was once a man of national fame, and was a close friend of Abraham Lincoln, whom he placed in nomination for the presidency in 1864. He was born in Pittsford, N. Y., in 1819.

Last of the Commonwealers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The last remnant of the several commonwealth armies which have been camped about Washington was sent out of town yesterday. There were 35 men and though their homes are in Connecticut and Massachusetts, transportation was furnished only to New York city.

Illinois' Crops.

MOAWEQUA, Ills., Aug. 17.—Reports from Shelby, Christian and Monroe counties say that the crop is now practically made. The recent rains were all that was needed. The yield will be the largest in several years.

Decided to Return to Work.

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 17.—Three thousand coal miners in the Mercer county district held a meeting Wednesday and decided to return to work on the 60 cents a ton basis. They have been on a strike for eight months.

Steamer Sunk.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A special dispatch from Caracas says that the steamer Confianza sank in the Orinoco on Aug. 12, and M. Frustak, French consul to Ciudad, Bolivia, was drowned.

Laundry Destroyed by Fire.

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—The Montreal steal steam laundry building, corner St. Antoine and St. Genevieve streets, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $100,000, with $40,000 insurance.

Clardy to Succeed Ellis.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Aug. 17.—Dr. John D. Clardy was nominated by the Democratic convention to succeed Congressman W. T. Ellis in the Second district.

At Bosses' Terms.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The butchers' strike at the stockyards has been declared off on the terms proposed by the packers.

CAUSE OF THE STRIKE

Testimony Taken by the Labor Commissioners.

SEVERAL WITNESSES TESTIFY.

Government Control of Railroads Recommended by One Witness as the Solution of the Labor Problem.—A Woman Tells of Her Troubles at Pullman.—Testimony of the Other Witnesses.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—George W. Lovejoy, an ex-employee of the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific road, was the first witness called before the board of labor commissioners. Mr. Lovejoy testified that the Rock Island road refused to tell him on June 6 whether he was discharged or not, but simply refused to give him work. The Rock Island road, he stated, had adopted a policy of throwing out of work all members of the American Railway union.

Mr. Lovejoy stated he lost his position because he came to Chicago as a delegate of the American Railway union. The employees of the road at La Salle then appointed a grievance committee, which called on the officers of the road and demanded the reinstatement of Lovejoy. The officials refused to consider the communication and a general strike was declared. This was the beginning of the strike on the Rock Island. Mr. Lovejoy made an assertion that the Rock Island officials declared no union man should ever work for the Rock Island road at La Salle again.

When asked by Commissioner Wright his solution of the strike problem, Mr. Lovejoy said he thought the government ownership of railroads would solve the problem satisfactorily. As reasons for this opinion, he gave the belief that the employees would be better treated by the government than by the railroad managers, and that they would have their grievances examined into and attended to, which was not the case now.

"How would you avoid the loss of places that might ensue from a change of the political party in power?"

"By application of the civil service rules."

This witness was in favor of the government's "keeping hands off," as he expressed it, whenever a strike was on. He did not believe warfare would result from such a state of affairs.

Mr. Lovejoy was in favor of arbitration, rather than strikes without it, but did not think the solution of the problem lay in arbitration.

"Is it not true," asked Mr. Kernan, "that the greatest difficulty which laboring men are under is the difficulty they have in getting a hearing before the men in charge of railroads?"

"Yes, sir. I believe strikes could be almost entirely averted by arbitration, if it could be had, but the roads will not listen to the grievances of the men."

"Do you believe strikes are of any benefit where they are lost?"

Mr. Lovejoy thought they were. He believed the Pullman strike and the subsequent railroad strike were of great benefit, though lost because, as he asserted, they showed the laboring men the necessity for organization and the facility of trusting to the old railroad organizations.

Mr. Kernan then adopted a line of questioning, tending to bring out an admission from the witness that the labor unions should take more stringent measures to keep their men from committing violence. Mr. Lovejoy admitted that such should be the case and that public sympathy, when it was diverted from the strikers, was diverted only because of rioting.

Sylvester Keliher, secretary of the American Railway union, was next put on the stand. He was asked and agreed to furnish certain documentary evidence bearing on the strike which the committee's commission desired to examine. Mr. Keliher then enumerated the causes of the strike and the circumstances attending it.

He told at length of the fruitless efforts of the American Railway union and the Pullman employees to induce the Pullman company to arbitrate; also of the efforts of citizens and part of the press to secure better wages for the ex-employees of Pullman. Mr. Keliher thought the best way to prevent strikes on railroads would be to have the government own and control the various lines. He did not think evil consequences would result from such ownership. In case the government ownership of railroads should not prove feasible, he believed compulsory arbitration the next best way to settle difficulties. In such cases both parties to the arbitration, he thought, should bind themselves to submit to the decree of the arbitration.

Judge Worthington's line of questioning on this point seemed to indicate that he favors compelling employees to submit to a competent board of arbitration in labor difficulties. The witness was not quite clear as to how a decree against employers in a matter of arbitration could be enforced; believed it could be done as easily as men could be enjoined from working by the courts.

B. B. Ray of Chicago told about the strike on the Rock Island road and the condition which existed at Rock Island. He declared he was peremptorily discharged by the Rock Island management because of his alleged affiliation with the American Railway union, although he was not a member of that organization. He stated that the road kept a blacklist of men who had been discharged by various roads. Mr. Ray thought arbitration the only solution of the strike trouble.

Miss Jennie Curtis, president of the Girls' union at Pullman, testified. Her father had been in the employ of the Pullman company for 15 years until shortly before his death last year. He was delinquent in his rent to the amount of $60. The company compelled her to assume the debt and sign a contract to pay it out of her wages at the rate of $3 a week. Some weeks she had so little left from her wages that she could not pay board. In 1893 the company was paying the girls 22 1/2 cents an hour for sewing, and the poorest seamstress earned $1.50 a day. Before the strike the best of them had got down to 70 or 80 cents a day, while the poorer needlewomen could make only 40 to 50 cents.

Theodore Rhode, representing the painters' department, followed Miss Curtis. He had worked for the company 12 years and had been gradually cut down until he could not make $1.25 a day. The foreman abused the men and the management experimented with the materials until piece workers could make nothing. He had not applied for work since the strike, because the company compelled every man to surrender his card of membership in the railway union and sign an agreement to have nothing to do with any labor organization for five years.

R. W. Combes of the freighter shops had been in the employ of the company for 10 years. Where men in that department were able to earn $2.25 a day, piece work, they were not able to make more than 68 cents a day in March of this year. Between 1888 and 1891 there had been no reductions, but in November of 1893 came a cut that made a difference of $8 in a freighter to the men who built it, and $6 of this fell on the car carpenter. The witness said he had $3.50 left from his February wages after he had paid his rent, and with the $3.50 he was expected to support a wife and two children.

After hearing the evidence of Combes the commission adjourned for the day.

Dead Outlaw.

PORT GIBSON, I. T., Aug. 17.—Notorious outlaw and escaped convict John Fields is dead. He rode into Briggs, a small town near here, and was advised to leave at once. Instead he went into the store of T. K. Madden, where a deputy sheriff named Johnson undertook to arrest him. Fields tried to kill the officer. Johnson called on bystanders for help. J. Lungsford fired two shots, and Fields ran out and fell dead within a few feet of where he killed a Cherokee named Red Bird, a few years ago, for which crime he was serving a 15-year sentence at Tallahassee, when he escaped about two months ago.

Love Tragedy in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 17.—Silvareo and Santiago Villegas, two brothers, were killed by Joaquin and Felipe Galacia, relatives of Pilar Galacia, the sweetheart of Silvareo Villegas. The young woman had been deserted by her lover, who had the audacity to pass her house with another woman. The father and brother of the young woman immediately avowed revenge, and, awaiting the fickle lover where they knew he must pass on his way home at night, killed him and his brother with stilet-tos.

Stole a Rig.

DECATUR, Ind., Aug. 17.—A horse and buggy were stolen by a woman near Berne, this county. She was carrying a child when overtaken by H. Dovell, a Bluffton stock dealer, who invited her to ride. She accepted and rode as far as he went her way. When he left the main road he stopped to let her out. To aid her he got out and took the child. At this she gave the horse a cut with the whip and was soon out of sight, leaving the child in his arms. When last heard of she was near the Ohio line.

Failed to Call Off the Strike.

BRAZIL, Ind., Aug. 17.—The Chicago and Eastern Illinois strikers of the Brazil branch met here last night to call the strike off, but opposing parties were present and argued that the local lodge could not vote off the strike. A heated discussion arose, which resulted in an adjournment of the meeting. The local lodge claims that the grand lodge is invested with the right to call off the strike, while the grand lodge contends that the local lodge is possessed with that prerogative.

Regular Battle With Thieves.

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 17.—The Rose Township Horsethief association received word to be on the lookout for three men and a team stolen in Michigan. The association got track of the thieves last night and a running battle ensued between the thieves and the farmers. Over 100 shots were fired by both sides before the surrender. One of the thieves was seriously wounded in the neck. They were locked up and will be returned to Michigan.

Went Through a Bridge.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 17.—The locomotive of the westbound Atlantic and Pacific passenger train went through a bridge near Cubero, 70 miles from here, yesterday, killing the engineer, William Norris. James A. Norton, the fireman, escaped with a few bruises. The accident was the result of heavy rains and high water. The bridge was examined before the train started to pass over, and was thought to be safe.

PRETORIA, South Africa, Aug. 17.—

The rebels are murdering the Boer farmers and are burning their homesteads. A body of 100 Boers are proceeding to the relief of the occupants of the government buildings at Agatha, which are besieged by the rebellious Caffirs.

Mistook His Wife For a Burglar.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 17.—Frank Proteous of Portage township shot and instantly killed his wife at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mrs. Proteous awoke to close a window. Her husband awoke and, mistaking her for a burglar, fired with fatal effect.

WENT TO COMMITTEE.

All the New Tariff Bills Are Referred.

NOT A SINGLE WORD OF DEBATE

The Senate Committee on Finance Will Now Deal With the Questions—Contest Over the Sugar Bill—The Deficiency Appropriation Bill Discussed in the House, Senate and House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The contest over the sugar bill was resumed in the senate yesterday. At the opening session Mr. Hill received unanimous consent for the consideration of his bill to provide for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists. It was passed without division.

Mr. Dolph (Rep., Or.) gave notice of an amendment he should offer to the free sugar bill to restore the McKinley duties on wool.

Mr. Kyle (Pop., N. D.) called up his resolution to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in the senate wing of the Capitol during the recess. He admitted there was now a rule prohibiting the sale at any time. He acquitted senators of drinking, but said liquor was sold to strangers and employees of the senate.

Mr. Gorman moved to refer the resolution to the committee on mines. He said he had never tasted whisky, but could deal with the question without prejudice, and proceeded to score sham reformers who made a public display of their virtues. The resolution went to the committee.

At 2:10 the vice president laid before the senate the unfinished business, the house bill to place sugar, raw and refined, on the free list. The pending motion was that of Mr. Harris, to refer to the committee on finance. Mr. Aldrich gave notice of an amendment he would offer to the bill to repeal the tariff bill now in the hands of the president.

Mr. Manderson gave notice of an amendment to continue in force until 1905 the bounty provision of the McKinley law. Then the unexpected happened. Without a word of debate the vote was taken on the motion to refer the bill to the committee on finance. The motion was carried, 32 to 18.

In quick succession the other three bills were also sent to the committee on finance. On the motion to refer the free coal bill the vote was 35-17; on the free iron ore bill 27-17.

The free barbed wire bill was referred without division. The negative votes in both cases were the same as on the free coal bill. Messrs. Dolph, Jones of Nevada, Mitchell of Oregon, and Smith were added to the affirmative, Mr. Camden refraining from voting. On the free iron ore, reference, Messrs. Carey, Camden and Walsh were added to the affirmative. Mr. Dolph did not vote.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—There was a mere handful of members present when the speaker called the house to order. The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up for further consideration.

Mr. Sayer's motion to insist on disagreement on the Southern Pacific claim amendment was adopted.

Unanimous consent was asked that the senate substitute bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists, which had just been received from the senate, should be taken up for consideration. Objection was made by Messrs. Tracey and Warner of New York, and considerable disturbance was caused.

The bill was withdrawn and referred to the committee on the judiciary.

The conference report on the general deficiency bill was reported to the house, Mr. Sayers announcing an agreement on the Southern Pacific amendment, the senate conferees having receded.

The bill to repeal the alcohol clause in the tariff bill was passed.

At 4:45 p. m., the house adjourned until next Monday.

Mexican Arrested.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Aug. 17.—Frank Martinaw, a Mexican of considerable wealth, has been arrested in the Klowa and Comanche country as an intruder. Martinaw has been a resident of that country for 20 years. Judge Ruckner, his attorney, will immediately institute habeas corpus proceedings for his release.

Smothered by Falling Earth.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 17.—Andrew Geleide, 24 years old, unmarried, was killed last night by the caving in of a trunk sewer. It took six hours to recover the body. Two others were rescued alive. The bank caved the second time before Geleide could be taken out. He had no relatives here. His mother lives in Belgium.

Insane Woman Drowns Herself.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Susan Beebe, age 64, jumped into the river from the Grand Trunk railroad bridge last night. The body was recovered. She was insane. She leaves three children. Her husband deserted her two months ago. At one time she was an inmate of the insane asylum.

Toughs at a Revival.

BRAZIL, Ind., Aug. 17.—At a negro revival west of the city last night, several drunken toughs endeavored to break up the services by assailing the participants with clubs and stones. A general fight followed in which razors and revolvers were freely used. Several persons are reported severely, if not fatally, wounded. The affair has caused much excitement among the colored people.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1894.

GORMAN, Brice and Smith are simply Republicans who have been masquerading as Democrats. They have been unmasked, however.

If the tariff bill passed this week is not all that Democrats wanted, it is better than the McKinley bill. It gives no bounties and is framed largely for the purpose of revenue.

UNDER the new tariff and revenue bill the burdens of the Government will not fall on the consumer entirely. The income tax will make the wealthy pay something like their just share of the burdens of the Government.

THE Republican State platform of the present year if all brought together would make an interesting specimen of a crazy quilt, remarks an exchange. They have about as many different views on the tariff, on reciprocity and on the silver question as there are States.

SOME of the manufacturers announce reductions of wages. This is precisely what they did when the McKinley bill was passed, truthfully remarks the Courier-Journal. A protected manufacturer reduces wages whenever he dares, with or without provocation.

CONGRESSMAN WILSON spoke the truth when he said: "The difficulty which the country must recognize is that on the tariff question we did not have a Democratic Senate, and whatever has been gained has been wrested from a protection body." They are less than forty tariff reform Democrats in the Senate.

THE United States Commissioner of Labor states that the loss in wages resulting from strikes in the United States since 1880, has been $99,972,440, and the loss to employers has been $34,172,814. If this be true, the immediate effect has always been against the strikers, and it would indicate that the best means to secure the best results would be to secure a system of arbitration to settle all labor disputes, says an exchange. And that's about the truth of the matter.

INDIANA Democrats inaugurate their campaign this year with a strong ticket, on a strong platform. They denounce protection, condemn the Republican party and the Senators that served as its allies while masquerading as Democrats, give thanks for the small favors accorded by the new tariff bill, rejoice over the income tax, favor the election of Senators by popular vote, and pledge themselves to continue the battle for tariff reform until all legalized extortion and robbery are abolished.

EUROPE's apple crop is said to be a failure this year, and our cousins over the water will draw on the United States for their supply of fruit. The prospects for a bountiful crop in the Northern States are said to be fine, and the growers are expecting an unprecedented export trade. The smallest quantity of apples exported in the last fourteen years was 81,532 barrels in 1883, there having been previously, in 1880, 1,328,806 barrels, and afterward, in 1891, the "banner year" in the apple trade, 1,450,333 barrels, so that if the exports of the current year are to be unprecedented they must come near 1,500,000 barrels.

THE Vice President of Ashland Council No. 18, A. P. A., sent a communication to the Ashland News one day this week in which he attempted to defend that order. The News published it verbatim et literatim, and now the writer of it is on his ear because the editor of the News didn't "please correct mistakes." It set him before the public not only as a bigot, but especially as an ignoramus. Here's the way the News talks back at the fellow:

"Now we want to say to this Vice President we are not responsible for his ignorance nor for his having made a laughing stock of himself, and as far as trouble is concerned we are ready to meet him half way or all the way. Threats don't go with us Mr. Adkins, and we think you had unlimited gall in even asking us to publish the article, inasmuch as you do not even take the News."

BEATS PLUMVILLE.

Editor Bulletin: I see a correspondent of Plumville says they have a man living near there who is forty-five years old and has never drank any whisky. We have a native born citizen who has lived here all his life; he was seventy-five years old March 15th. He has never even tasted any kind of liquor. Plumville will have to try it again.

MAYSVILLE VERSUS IRONTON.

Thursday's Game Resulted in a Victory For the Home Team.
Score 13 to 10

The game yesterday at the park between Maysville and Ironton was a slugging match, with pretty much all the slugging on one side.

The locals found Rooney an easy mark. He pitched only five innings, and while he remained in the box every one of the home team, except Davis, embraced the opportunity to swell their batting average. Lauderbach succeeded Rooney in the sixth and finished out the game.

Sparks twirled for Maysville. He didn't seem to have a great amount of speed, but his delivery was a Chinese puzzle to some of the visitors. He fanned out fourteen of them.

The visitors put up a splendid game in the field, while the home boys' fielding was very ragged.

Cox's playing at first and nice work with the bat for Maysville was the feature of the game. The following is the score:

SHORT STORIES.

Ironton and Maysville will cross bats again this afternoon. Game called at 2:30.

Wadsworth will pitch part of the game this afternoon and Wellner the rest.

The Shamrocks gave the Lexington team a terrible fall yesterday, defeating them by a score of 17 to 5.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "Third base is by long odds the most difficult place to play on a ball team. The hardest hits are those that are pulled around to third. Not only does the third baseman have to look out for cannon shots, but at any minute the batter may take it in his head to dump it down, when a fast run and a quick throw is the order. A third baseman is on edge all the time. He has less time to handle grounders and the longest throw of any of the infielders. Third base, at any time, was hard to play, but with the increased pitching distance it is harder than ever before. Patrons in criticising third basemen should not be too severe. They should remember that perfect third basemen this year are as scarce as the typical hen's teeth."

The Two-Year-Old Record.

At Terre Haute, Ind., this week the $10,000 purse for two-year-old stallions was won by the Louisville stallion, Boreal, owned by Scott Newman. He ran fifth in the first heat and then won two straight. Time, 2:20, 2:21 and 2:17. Boreal's record is the fastest made by a two-year-old this year. Oakland Baron got a record of 2:20 at the Maysville fair a few weeks ago and parties who saw him in that race are confident he could have finished in 2:16 or 2:17.

They'll Go Fishing.

Catlettsburg Democrat: "Hon. Rolla K. Hart, of Fleming, Democratic nominee for Congress in this district, was here during the races, mixing with the people and received a cordial greeting from the Democratic hosts, and won the friendship of many Republicans, who if they do not vote for him, will go fishing on election day."

On a Paying Basis.

The report of the Warden of the penitentiary to Treasurer Hale, ex-officio Secretary of the State Sinking Fund Commission, shows that the penitentiary chair plant and other factories during the past month paid a net revenue of $1,000, besides paying all of the expenses of the penitentiary.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. James Wood.

MANCHESTER is to have a stove foundry. The capital stock of the concern is $15,000 and it has all been subscribed. The contract for building and equipping the concern will be let at once. Ironton capital is interested in the enterprise.

DOVER NEWS: "At the Pittsburg National G. A. R. encampment September 12th, a series of games will take place. The principal event will be a mile foot race between veterans. James O'Connell, of Mt. Sterling, and a former resident of Dover, is the only Kentuckian entered in this combat."

ACCORDING to an article in the August Forum, the Methodists of this country collect for current expenses, principally the salaries of their ministers, about $14,000,000 yearly; the Episcopalians about $13,000,000; the Presbyterians $12,000,000; the Baptists $8,000,000, and the Congregationalists $7,000,000. The average salary of the Methodist minister is estimated at $850, exclusive of fees and donations; of the Congregationalist minister $1,050; of the Presbyterian something more; of the Episcopalians still more.

Madison Female Institute!

Boarding and day School for young Ladies. Thirty-sixth year opens in September, 1894. College and Preparatory courses. Building commodious; hot and cold baths and closets; recreation rooms are above ground—large, well ventilated. Grounds consisting of fourteen acres, affording ample space for tennis courts and other out-door amusements; commanding location on a hill overlooking the city, within a minute's walk of the business portion.

In September, 1891, this school opens under the management of Mrs. A. R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd, Associate Principals, late of Hamilton College, Lexington, Ky. They will be supported by an able corps of teachers. The school will be limited to thirty boarders, thus an opportunity for social life will be afforded, impossible in large boarding schools. For catalogue and other information address

LEXINGTON, KY., May 20, 1891.

It gives me pleasure to say that I am well acquainted with the character and the work of Mrs. A. R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd and that I think the Madison Female Institute very fortunate in securing their services in its management. They are both ladies of culture, executive ability and skill in the art of teaching. No parents in Kentucky or elsewhere need hesitate to put daughters under their care and instruction.

J. W. MCGARVEY.

LEXINGTON, KY., June 15, 1891.

To Whom it May Concern: Having learned that my friends, Mrs. Anne R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd, have engaged to take charge of Madison Female Institute, it gives me pleasure to say that they are in my opinion in every way qualified for the responsible position. These ladies have had fine opportunities of learning the best methods of teaching in some of the most celebrated seminaries in the land. This, combined with rare ability and some ten or twelve years' experience in the school room, gives assurance of success in their undertaking.

Mrs. Bourne and Miss Lloyd as Associate Principals, will be aided by a corps of able teachers; and from my knowledge of their ability, energy and Christian culture, I am sure they will do good service in the cause of Christian education. In this expectation I commend them and their enterprise to the patronage of the public.

The Wonderful Caves of Oligo-Nunk in Carter County.

Concerning the newly discovered caves of Oligo-Nunk, the Cincinnati Times Star of July 21st says:

"The newly discovered caves in Carter County, Kentucky, are being explored by a party of mountaineers every day and each day brings new wonders. Already eleven miles of caverns have been explored and dark crevasses lead to unknown depths below. The extent of the windings, therefore can not be guessed. The name Oligo-Nunk was given to them by Major J. C. Worthington, surgeon of the U. S. A. at Fort Thomas, who got it from a work on Indian literature. It means 'the place of caves.' The native guides have, however, begun to tell stories of an Indian chief called Oligo-Nunk, whom they claimed the place is named after. In 1853 the U. S. secret service officers tracked a gang of counterfeiters to Carter County, where they lost them in the hills. But they afterwards traced them to a small cave, and though they captured their tools and the forge, the counterfeiters themselves escaped in a mysterious way and were never heard of again.

"Nobody took any interest in the matter of the caves till C. B. Ryan of the C. and O. railroad began to want a cave for a summer resort. There was in Carter County a cavern known as the Foxes' Court House, where numerous foxes had their dens and where the country people for miles around gathered every Christmas to have a dance. The owner of this place, however, wanted a fabulous price for the caves, so Ryan, with D. A. Fletcher, Al. Onken and H. P. Hathaway, started out to find a new cave. Fletcher succeeded in getting into the counterfeiters' cave and perceiving that it extended far into the hill, got his companions to join in an exploring expedition. They entered supplied with ropes and lights and red fire and found the caverns which are now surprising the world. At one place they found a hole through which they could only crawl, pushing their lanterns before them. This foramen in the solid rock, which has been named 'the fishing worm's race track,' extended 300 yards, when it turned off at a right angle, and 300 yards further on suddenly opened into a great cavern where the stalactites and stalagmites hung in wild confusion like a mass of petrified honeycomb. This cavern is a hundred feet high and is divided in three distinct stories which are now reached by ladders. It is called the 'Corkscrew,' from the peculiar twist of the stalactites and stalagmites which have here come together and formed pillars. Proceeding through this new cavern the party found a streak of daylight and, breaking through, came to the surface at the bottom of a brush pile. A third winding they traced to the surface, where is a mysterious current of air, cold as if it came from a pile of ice. Just within this is a spring of fresh water. The caves are a real wonder and may be equal to the Mammoth cave when fully explored."

The C. and O.'s next excursion to these wonderful caves will be run Sunday. Round trip only $1.50. Tickets at Nelson's.

MRS. THOMAS SELLER, of Versailles, was awakened one night this week by a noise in her bedroom. She got up and the next instant discovered a burly burglar crouching on the floor. The thief ran and, instead of screaming, she seized him and had a lively tussle trying to hold him until she got her husband awake. The burglar escaped, but was afterwards captured and identified.

THE editor who wrote the following clipping evidently knows a thing or two: "Don't ask an editor to suppress an item of news. Some other paper will get it anyway. The next week something will happen to your neighbor, and if he asks to have it suppressed, you will be the first man to jump on the editor for daring to 'say his soul was his own.' Take your medicine when the item happens to fall your way, for really you have no more claim on the paper than has your neighbor. See?"

THE new Kanawha and Cincinnati towboat E. S. Andrews is as near fire-proof as it is possible to make a steamer. It is built almost entirely of steel, there being no wood about her except the bottom, which is four inches thick, the cabin, pilot house and wheel. The hull is made of steel, and the deck, the bulkheads and even the doors are steel. The Andrews is supplied with all modern improvements, including steam steering apparatus, electric lights and with all the appliances required by law to complete a first-class towboat.

THE Cincinnati and Pittsburg packets did fairly well last year notwithstanding dull times. "The boats on the line are all being placed in good condition for the fall campaign. The Iron Queen, now laid up at Cincinnati, is to have two injectors to take the place of the cumbersome, old-fashioned doctor and a slaggard wheel. Captain Philipps has become impressed with the belief that this is an age of improvement, and he can see no reason why improvements can not be made on steamboats as well as anything else," says an exchange.

SCARED THE NEGROES.

An Immense Meteor Bursts Over Coffeeville, Mississippi.

COFFEEVILLE, Miss., Aug. 17.—An immense meteor burst immediately over Coffeeville at 12 o'clock last night, with a report that shook the earth for miles around and frightened the people almost out of their wits. Those who witnessed the phenomenon states that it resembled a ball of fire passing through the sky, and when it reached a point directly over the town exploded with a deafening report.

Several fragments of the meteor were picked up in the streets afterward. They present the appearance of volcanic rocks after an eruption, being fused under the action of intense heat. The negroes are greatly excited over the occurrence, and they look upon it as a direct warning from heaven that the judgment day is near at hand.

Five People Injured in a Wreck.

TRENTON, Mo., Aug. 17.—Passenger train No. 11 on the Reek Island, the fast westbound express, crashed into the dining car just before it reached the depot, making sad havoc of the dining car and seriously injuring five employees. It was caused by the yardmaster forgetting to set the switch, leaving a clear main track. Conductor W. T. Crawford was seriously injured internally; Freeman, a cook, injured on the head; Benfield, injured on head; John J. Anderson, cut on wrists; Perry Coulson, cut on side and head.

Hot Go.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 17.—The fight between Johnny Van Heest and Kid Vance, colored, was hot from the start, but was all Van Heest's way. Vance went down four times in the first round. He was unable to stand up in the next three rounds, but did some good fighting while on his feet. In the fifth round he went down twice, the last time to stay, and he was carried to his corner. The fight was for a purse of $500.

A Nimrod's Untoward Fate.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 17.—Albert Rigent, a prominent young merchant of Blocton, while out hunting shot a bear, and when about to pick it up from the grass was bitten on the arm by a rattlesnake. He hurried home, but died a few feet from the house door after suffering great agony. His body swollen to about twice its normal size before death.

He Got Even.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 17.—Wednesday night J. C. Woodard killed Paddy Ryan's dog, and yesterday morning Ryan met Woodard and hit him on the head with a rake, badly hurting him. Woodard went and got a shotgun and filled Ryan's head full of shot. Ryan was fatally wounded. Both men are farmers.

Millions of Dollars in Revenue.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 17.—Yesterday was a record-breaker at Collector Johnson's office on whiskey taken out of bond. Over $500,000 in taxes was paid on Kentucky's product. This is believed to be the largest receipts in one day at any office on record.

Sick For Several Years.

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 17.—David F. Urmy of Pueblo, attorney general of the state in 1883-84, died at Gwanda, N. Y., last night. He was sick for several years as the result of la grippe.

Explosion in a Fireworks Factory.

BEHLIN, Aug. 17.—An explosion occurred in a fireworks factory at Konigsberg yesterday afternoon. Three persons were killed and several injured.

By Acclamation.

Will Never Be Known.

CANTON, O., Aug. 17.—Michael Malou, a laborer residing at the Middle-branch hotel, was found dead under the window of his room last night owing to a fall from the second story. He was disappointed in love and threatened suicide. Whether he fell or jumped from the window is a mystery.

Raided the Town.

HICKSVILLE, O., Aug. 17.—Burglars entered the stores of E. M. Pettit & Company, Mastin & Countryman, and J. W. Fry & Company, and took about $1,000 worth of goods. They were discovered and after a hot chase they were cornered in a small woods south of town.

Struck Her With His Fist.

VANCEBURG, Ky., Aug. 17.—Sam May was at church in the southern part of the city, and asked Minid Ales "to see her home." She refused. He struck her with his fist. She then struck him in the jaw. May was arrested and jailed.

Ocean Steamer Stranded.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 17.—The German bark Atlantic, Captain Witte, which sailed from New York July 5, for Huddiksvall and Sundsvall, Sweden, with a cargo of petroleum, is stranded off Olin-sund. A salvage steamer has been sent to her assistance.

Wanted in New York.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 17.—Governor McKinley granted the requisition of Governor Flower for Howard B. Pike, who ended a 3-year sentence in the Ohio prison Thursday and is wanted in New York for grand larceny in the second degree.

Took Morphine.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Aug. 17.—Miss Maggie Cook of Columbus, on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Cupp, near Darbyville, committed suicide by taking morphine yesterday. The cause is not known.

Congressional Convention.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 17.—Theodore Burton was last night nominated for congress by the Republicans of the Twenty-first district.

The National Bird.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 17.—While hunting J. A. Rosensteel killed an eagle measuring five feet nine inches from tip to tip.

McCREARY A CANDIDATE.

The Eighth District's Representative After Blackburn's Seat in the Senate.

Congressman James B. McCreary formally announces that he will be a candidate to succeed Senator Blackburn in the following circular sent to the Chairmen of Democratic County Committees throughout the State:

A United States Senator will be elected by the next General Assembly of Kentucky. Many of my friends have offered me their support, and I expect to be a candidate.

My devotion to Democratic principles and my efforts to be a faithful and efficient officer, I hope, are known to you, and my experience as a member of the Legislature and as Governor of Kentucky and my long experience in Congress, I trust, have equipped me for the duties as Senator.

Your are Chairman of the Democratic Committee of your county, and I know of your influence and activity. I will be very grateful for any aid you might give me. Who will probably desire to represent your county in the next Legislature? Please write me and command me when I can serve you. Your friend, JAMES B. McCREARY.

Parks Hill Camp Meeting.

Mason County arrivals at Deering camp ground since our last report are James Pyles, of Sardis, and Miss Lena Alexander, of Lewisburg.

The last week of the encampment is the most pleasant, the grounds in so much better fix. No dust and yet no mud. About seventy-five cottages continually occupied, and an average of five to the cottage.

Between services, some of the fishermen here are getting in their work. One gentleman caught twelve bass Tuesday, and quite a number of other catches have been made.

Mr. Yonan conducted services Tuesday morning, but owing to illness he had to leave in the afternoon. Rev. W. W. Green, of Kentucky conference, preached Thursday afternoon.

Quite a number of the old settlers of Nicholas County were on the camp ground Tuesday, guests of the camp management. No doubt Friday will be big day for week days, as quite a number of Epworth Leaguers have expressed intention of attending.

Revs. James Mann, C. J. Nugent, W. W. Green, M. T. Chandler, Mr. Brunner, N. Y. and Sam Robinson and Dr. H. M. Scudder and Rev. G. W. Young are ministers who have been in attendance during the week.

BUSINESS REVIVING.

The Telegraph Wires at Pittsburg Kept Busy With Orders For Goods.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 14.—The passage of the tariff bill has already made itself felt in this district by a marked revival business. Stocks in all lines of manufactures had been reduced to a minimum, especially in iron, steel and glass. To-day several large orders were received by local manufacturers, and many more are expected. In some lines of business the demand began yesterday as soon as the passage of the tariff bill was assured, and the telegraph wires were kept busy last night with orders for goods.

ELWOOD, Ind., Aug. 14.—The McCloy Lamp Chimney plant, employing 300 hands, resumed work in full this morning after an annual rest of sixty days. The company has orders enough on hand to run them for sixty days, and the outlook is extremely promising.

Emma Warren Theatre Co.

This company opening at Washington Opera House next Monday evening has received some very clever press notices in Texas, where the company has been for the last year. The following is taken from the Fort Worth Gazette:

"A large and appreciative audience witnessed Miss Warren's production of 'Queen' at the Grand. To say that the play is grand is but too mildly expressing it. In fact the English language is inadequate to describe the merits of this combination. It is sufficient then to say that no actress has ever worked upon the emotional feelings of our theatre-going people as did Miss Warren. She was called before the curtain at the end of each and every act."

Miss Warren carries her own band and an orchestra which is said to be very fine. Popular prices.

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a cough, cold or any lung, throat or chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood's drug store. Large size 50c. and $1.

An Outsider's View.

Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat: "The Republicans of the Ninth Congressional district are blowing considerably over the strength of their candidate, the Hon. S. J. Pugh, but the information that we receive from all parts of the district is to the effect that the gallant and popular Rolla Hart, the Democratic nominee, is sweeping every thing before him, and will be elected by a magnificent majority."

Dead Body Identified.

TERRE HAUTE, Aug. 17.—The body of the man found in the river bottoms yesterday, supposed to have been murdered, has been partially identified as that of John O'Malley of Indianapolis, a traveling man for Mack's Manufacturing company of Indianapolis, corner of St. Clair street and the canal.

Fight Prevented by the Police.

ELWOOD, Ind., Aug. 17.—The prize fight that was to have occurred here between "Kid" Nebber and "Kid" Reed, lightweights, of Ohio and Indiana, was prevented by the police. The fight will occur west of the city Saturday night.

Peaches Five Cents a Basket.

The Sacramento river steamers arriving this morning brought in over 20,000 packages of fruit, says a San Francisco telegram of the 6th. There were also heavy shipments by rail, and the market became so badly glutted that peaches and plums sold at five cents a basket. As each basket of fruit weighs from thirty to forty pounds the price realized does not pay freight and commission charges.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
